Best Practices Bookmarks

These original designs were drawn by hand and processed by me, Maria Cahill, in the sincere hope that these best practices will be more widely implemented because the bookmarks are useful and attractive. If you have any questions about these, feel free to contact me.

Some Best Practices for Printing Best Practices Bookmarks

The pdfs have 0.5" margins, which is the minimum required by most printers.

- Don't forget – only send the second page to the printer to make your bookmark.
- Print these on salvaged (i.e. printed on one side already) paper or cardstock. I use holiday cards.
- Don't laminate these in plastic to make them last longer or protect them from coffee spills. Tuck these babies into a book 'til they're worn out and then print yourself a new one on plain old unadulterated paper again.
- Just cut them with scissors.
- Try implementing one of the practices.
- Share them.

Licensed Uses

Best Practices Bookmarks by Green Girl LDS is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 3.0 Unported License (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/3.0/>), meaning you can print these as they are, you can adapt them for your own uses (by downloading the PowerPoint file) but you can't make money on them. If you work for a non-profit, though, contact me, Maria Cahill (email and phone above) and I'll license them to you for fundraising.

Make and eat home cooked meals. Work less. Make your own fun. Embrace a little imperfection. Get outdoors to enjoy views of nature. Don't buy it unless you love it or can't do without it.
